“ When my mother, Rosemary Reynolds Barron was still alive (she passed in Dec. 1998)we would attend Mass at St. Mary's in Cortland. We always sat to the far right of the church and when glancing to our left, we'd be greeted with the biggest, warmest and friendliest smile around from "cousin Joe." What I remember from my parents words were that Joe was a great man, wonderful relative and a really hard working, loving family man. Another remarkable relative has earned his wings and he will surely be missed on this physical realm....
